

MEET THE TEACHER

My Teaching Philosophy

I believe that great teaching starts with connecting with my students. I prioritize building a classroom community that is rooted in respect, kindness, and a growth mindset. I am dedicated to supporting each child's academic growth by providing engaging, hands-on learning experiences that meet them where they are and help them reach their full potential.

Welcome!

Hi and welcome to kindergarten in room 22! My name is Mrs. Senack and I am so excited to have your child in my class this year! This will be my fourth year teaching. I cannot wait to meet you and your child, and start our fun year of learning and growing together!

A Little About Me

I graduated from James Madison University in 2013 (go Dukes!) and have a master's in early childhood and family development from Missouri State University. When I'm not in my classroom, I love spending time with my husband, two children, and our dog. Going on family walks and playing games are some of our favorite ways to be together.
